The ink on the paper makes me nervous

I nearly lose my vision

Bm

and my mind

Em

Quicken

A

Head below my knees

Bm

I come alive

Em

with every stroke of every letter

G

in every line you write

Keeps me awake

Thinking back oh...

Em

My first sight of you

Was my first heart attack

Every letter makes me lose my reason

A

G

Every word is like your kindest touch

Bm

And if I told you how much I need you

A

Would you give me yourself

G

or turn and run?

Em

D

A

You light up desire just by describing it

G

I read to myself until I go blind

Em

D

Your words fall around me

A

all through the night

G

I can't resist and I don't want to fight

Bm

Bm

[CYRANO] Will you be held?

D

Will you be touched?

A

By my hand through this paper

G

Is this all too much?

D

Will we be ravaged? Will we be true?

A

To somebody perfect

G

Somebody like you?

Em

[CHRISTIAN] I'm tired of yearning

D

I'm tired of learning

A

I need to drink you

G

My heart has been burning

[ROXANE AND CHRISTIAN]

Em

Ever since I saw you

D

Backwards through the glass

A

Of a thin window pane

G

Like a thin see-through mask

Bm

These words are the truth

D

Just let them sink in

A

Through your thin fingered gloves

G

To your hand, to your skin

Bm

Like ribbons on wrists

D

Let them hold you and twist

Let them touch you all over
Until you can't resist

[ALL]

Every letter makes me lose my reason
Every word is like your kindest touch
And if I told you how much I need you
Would you give me yourself
or turn and run?
Would you give me yourself
or turn and run?

[ROXANE]

You light up desire just by describing it
I read to myself until I go blind
Your words fall around me
all through the night

[ROXANE AND CHRISTIAN]

I can't resist and I don't want to fight

[ALL] Dim the lights

Give me everything I want

Just talk to me like you do in your songs

[ROXANE] Your letters are drawings on me from above
I know who you are
and I know you are loved
